

KentuckyFriedCruelty.com
We Do Chickens Wrong

Home Why KFC? Campaign Highlights Celebrity Endorsements Investigations FAQ Donate Now

Search

Go

Order Your Pamela Anderson Video Today!

- Get Active
- How You Can Help
  - Become a PETA Member

- Resources
- "Kentucky Fried Cruelty" >>
  - "Meet Your Meat" >>
  - The Hidden Lives of Chickens
  - Free Vegetarian Starter Kit
  - GoVeg.com
  - Ads/PSAs
  - Literature
  - Merchandise
  - FAQ

- International
- Spanish
  - French
  - UK
  - India
  - German
  - Dutch

Shop PETA

Kentucky Fried Cruelty T-Shirt

P!nk has kicked off a petition asking KFC to make sure that the 850 million birds killed for its buckets each year aren't abused in ways that would make any kind person lose their lunch:

"PETA is asking KFC to eliminate the worst abuses that chickens suffer in the factory farms and slaughterhouses of its suppliers, including crippling injuries because of cruel breeding practices and the overuse of drugs, having their throats slit while still conscious, and being dunked into tanks of scalding-hot water while still alive and able to feel pain," the petition reads. It continues, "I urge KFC to adopt the recommendations of PETA—and its own animal welfare advisors—to ensure that the gentle, intelligent animals who end up in its boxes and buckets each day are treated with at least the bare minimum of respect."

Because birds aren't included in the only laws that protect animals at slaughter (even though they make up more than 98 percent of the animals eaten in the U.S.), KFC can get away with abusing chickens in these hideous ways. As a leader in the industry, it's up to KFC to make sure that its birds aren't being tortured.

P!nk joins the growing list of celebrities—including Paul McCartney, Pamela Anderson, Hawthorne Heights, Good Charlotte, His Holiness the Dalai Lama, Black Eyed Peas, and The Rev. Al Sharpton—who are speaking out against KFC's cruelty to animals.

Join P!nk in signing her petition urging KFC to treat chickens more humanely.

All fields in bold are mandatory .

Stop Kentucky Fried Cruelty

PETA is asking KFC to eliminate the worst abuses that chickens suffer in the factory farms and slaughterhouses of its suppliers, including crippling injuries because of cruel breeding practices and the overuse of drugs, having their throats slit while still conscious, and being dunked into tanks of scalding-hot water while still alive and able to feel pain.

I urge KFC to adopt the recommendations of PETA—and its own animal welfare advisors—to ensure that the gentle, intelligent animals who end up in its boxes and buckets each day are treated with at least the bare minimum of respect.

SIGN (USING YOUR MOUSE)	YOUR E-MAIL	DATE OF BIRTH (MM/DD/YYYY)
<input type="text" value="CleanMoose"/>	<input type="text" value=""/>	<input type="text" value=""/>
<input type="button" value="Submit"/> <input type="button" value="Reset"/>

CLEAR:

By supplying my e-mail address, I recognize that I may receive a follow-up message.
Your privacy is very important to us. Read PETA's privacy policy.

Printer-Friendly | E-Mail This Page | Subscribe to E-News

About PETA | Donate Now | Privacy Policy | Disclaimer | PETA Web Sites