Dear [name deleted],

A group of politicians, at the prodding of the meat, vivisection, fur, puppy mill and circus industries, are trying to rush a law through Congress this week called the "Animal Enterprise Terrorism Act." The bill is so broad and vague that it could be used to prosecute people who speak up against animal abuse through peaceful boycotts.

Please call your federal (not state) representative and senators TODAY OR FIRST THING TOMORROW and ask that they oppose this legislation.

For your representative, the bill number is "House Resolution 4239," the Animal Enterprise Terrorism Act. For your senators, the bill is called "Senate Bill 3880," the Animal Enterprise Terrorism Act.

To find your representative and senators phone numbers, please visit Congress.org
